

ART THERAPY

Yesmin Chan was a trained nurse before obtaining her Honours and Master degree in Art. She subsequently acquired her second Master degree in Art Therapy. Currently in private practice at Raffles Hospital and Haroobee Studio at the Esplanade, Yesmin has broad experiences in clinical settings & working with a diverse population. With her interest in oncology, she is dedicated in delivering effective therapeutic intervention to cancer patients. She has also enjoyed a prolific career as an artist over the decades, holding joint and solo exhibitions with different organisations.

Using pencils, pastels, collage, paint and clay, the group will experiment with the ways line, color, shape and form can express hidden parts of ourselves and enhance our well-being.

No art experience expected or required, just a willingness to work from the heart and explore and reflect with the group.
